

Workshop

“Biomolecular Machines”

November 23-24, 2010

BioQuant, Im Neuenheimer Feld 267

Heidelberg, Germany

Organized by the Interdisciplinary PhD Program “Molecular Machines: Mechanisms and Functional Interconnections”, University of Heidelberg

http://www.zmbh.uni-heidelberg.de/public_html/meeting/

Speakers:

Richard Berry (Oxford, UK)

Bill Earnshaw (Edinburgh, UK)

Jan Ellenberg (Heidelberg, D)

Chris Häring (Heidelberg, D)

Karl-Peter Hopfner (Munich, D)

Kelly Hughes (Fribourg, CH)

Ed Hurt (Heidelberg, D)

Thomas Mayer (Konstanz, D)

Gislene Pereira (Heidelberg, D)

Chris Prodromou (London, UK)

Hays Rye (College Station, US)

David Sherrat (Oxford, UK)

Olaf Stemmann (Bayreuth, D)

Thomas Surrey (Heidelberg, D)

Francis Tsai (Houston, US)

Antoine van Oijen (Groningen, NL)

Organizing Committee:
Matthias Mayer, Elmar Schiebel and
Victor Sourjik

Contact: Victor Sourjik
email: sourjik.victor@zmbh.uni-heidelberg.de

We thank the Landesgraduiertenförderung (Land Baden-Württemberg) and the Heinz Götze Memorial Foundation for generously supporting the Interdisciplinary PhD Program Molecular Machines: Mechanisms and Functional Interconnections, University of Heidelberg, Center for Quantitative Biology (BioQuant)

Minerva, Goddess of Wisdom and Sciences
photography by J. Rami